In the Requirement for Information Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.105, mailed November 9, 2004, Applicant was required to set forth at least one allegation of newly disclosed subject matter which has been added to the invention disclosed in the parent application 08/555,911, to support Applicant's assertion that the instant application is a continuation-in-part as opposed to a divisional application.

in Figure 22, and in Figure 25, as well as in the detailed description section of the specification as filed at page 29, lines 18-20:

In addition to this new matter, by way of the foregoing examples, there may be other documents that the inventor has requested from the bankruptcy trustee that further bolster his claim to the addition of new matter but at this time of filing are unavailable.
